OLD BUSINESS

Zoning Office Gas Station Complaint

This matter involves a complaint that was filed by a resident against Code Enforcement/ Zoning office official Joe Rossi about his manner of dealing with gas station complaints. This matter was held in public session because Mr. Rossi, in response to a Rice Notice, requested public session.

Attorney Cushing verified with Mr. Rossi that he wants this discussed in public session.

Mayor Starrs asked Mr. Rossi if he would like to go first. Mr. Rossi asked the committee what the township policy was for employee performance review. Committeewoman Shipp responded to his question. Then Mr. Rossi proceeded with a list of items that were on a letter that Mayor Starrs had sent him regarding this Rice

Notice. Mayor Starrs asked Mr. Rossi to hang on. Mr. Rossi said, "Excuse me I would like to finish. Your Rice noticed me." Attorney Cushing had to step in to inform Mr. Rossi that the Mayor runs the meetings and that respect needs to be shown because the Mayor is your boss.

Mayor Starrs preceded going through the list of complaints against Mr. Rossi regarding the gas station issues which included, incorrect information provided to the Mayor or committee members, putting incorrect information such as names and incorrect block and lot on summons because you did not have the correct information, speaking to a resident in anger and telling the same resident to "write the summons yourself," stating that you will not respond to emails, and escalating situations. These actions are resulting in residents reaching out to committee members with complaints.

Mr. Rossi replied to the complaints that were made against him. Some of the complaints he said he had no comment on because either the government official that he spoke with was not present or it would be a he-said-she-said type scenario and he had no comment on some issues. One of the responses that Mr. Rossi had was regarding the summons that were issued and what the court official said and Judge said and accused the mayor for using her political position to persuade the prosecutor and asking, "How much are we going to fine him?" Mr. Rossi stated that the prosecutor said that there was no fine that they wanted to resolve this. Mr. Rossi also stated that "If I was a business owner in this town and I said that, found out that the first words out the Mayor's mouth was 'I make a mistake. How much money is he going to be fined?' I would be very concerned whether I wanted to have a business in this town."

Mayor Starrs replied that Mr. Rossi was not present when she spoke with the prosecutor. Mayor Starrs stated she went to court that day because there were so many mistakes on the summons and when she asked the judge what to do with about so many mistakes on a summons, the judge recommended going to the next court date and straighten things out.

Mr. Rossi also responded regarding speaking to the resident in anger. Mr. Rossi did write a letter to apologize to the resident and as far as he was concerned that was over. Mr. Rossi responded regarding the emails that it was the second time that it was brought up and since the first time he has responded to each individual email. He said, "They don't like my response."

Mayor Starrs stated she was getting the impression that Mr. Rossi does not take responsibility for these matters that were being addressed. Mr. Rossi responded with "That is your correct impression." Attorney Cushing said Mr. Rossi's attitude was inappropriate and asked Mr. Rossi "Joe, do you really want to do the job here in Knowlton?"

Mr. Rossi also wanted to address the last item that was on the list regarding an abandoned barn on Lime Kiln Rd. Mr. Rossi has not been able to find an agent at Bank of America in order to take care of this situation and issue a summons. Mayor Starrs asked if Rossi had cited them for "failure to provide an in-state representative"? He responded "Certainly" and said several times that Bank of America laughed at him. Attorney Cushing said that you do not have to summons an individual and told him to put the name of the president from Bank of America on the summons.

Mr. Rossi then asked if he could read a statement that he prepared without being interrupted.

Mr. Rossi in this statement accused the Mayor of being a liar, not trusted, using her political position to Rice Notice Mr. Rossi to give a performance review which he stated was "Employee Harassment," he called the Mayor prejudiced and biased and said that her chair has gone to her head. Mr. Rossi said that the Mayor is no longer to use his personal email or cell phone for Township business.

Mr. Rossi also gave official notice of "personal harassment charges and having hostile information." Attorney Cushing said once again, "Do you really want to consider working here? With that hostility, you seem to have feeling about, does it make sense for you to continue?" Mr. Rossi responded, "Absolutely."

Deputy Mayor Cuntala stated that Mr. Rossi “doesn’t seem like you want to answer to anyone” and said that he provides a lot of answers that are “absolutely wrong.” Mayor Starrs said she would not apologize for following up on residents’ complaints and for overseeing employees, which is the Township’s job. Committeeman Farber stated that the zoning officer has to explain things to residents.

After a heated discussion between the committee and Mr. Rossi, Committeewoman Shipps does not feel comfortable doing Mr. Rossi’s performance review unless it is in front of counsel and also feels that there should be a 6 month probation period. Mayor Starrs asked, “How can we have a Zoning Officer that can’t be contacted by municipal officials?” Mr. Rossi answered by asking the Township to order him a cell phone.

Mayor Starrs does not feel that she can work with Mr. Rossi and asked if someone else can be the liaison to the zoning office, which Deputy Mayor Cuntala agreed to.

Attorney Cushing advised the Committee to come up with a written plan for Mr. Rossi and the personnel subcommittee agreed.

Music Ordinance

Discussing regarding an amended Rock Music Ordinance with Attorney Cushing. Mr. Cushing believes a police power ordinance would be beneficial regarding outside music. Committee discussed that parking should be an element and minimize the noise to neighbors. A permit could be issued once a year and if you have violations of the permit so many times then your privilege is gone. Attorney Cushing will draft up an Ordinance for the committee to review.

Committee took a public comment from resident Nancy O’Neill who has issues with an amended Rock Music Ordinance. Mrs. O’Neill commented that she lives in Delaware and that the residents of Delaware have to deal with the truck stops, the campgrounds, and now having outdoor music at Hunter’s Lodge and how does the committee protect the residents from the noise?

Resident Frank DeGroot asked how the ordinance would be enforced. Attorney Cushing stated that the police power ordinance would be highly recommended.

Separate quote for the Recreation building will need to be provided.

Meeting --Delaware Travel Center June 13—Sam Milrom requested a meeting with Mayor Starrs on June 13 regarding the Travel Center being built but Mayor Starrs does not want to be the only committee person present. Committeeman Farber suggested that the meeting be rescheduled after the Board of Adjustment meeting. Mayor Starrs agreed that was a good idea and would do so.

CORRESPONDENCE

Hope Salt shed--Mayor Starrs had heard a rumor that the Hope Salt Shed was done for $80,000.00. Mayor Starrs stated that she researched it and the shed is much smaller than Knowlton's and the estimate was at $143,000, not $80,000.

Letter from DOT stating that NJDOT cannot accept Knowlton's request for a Shared Service with the State Salt Shed.

Mayor Starrs spoke with Paul from Superheat who recommends that the boiler be drained because of the salt in water. Committee agreed to have Mayor Starrs look into a reverse osmosis system for the boiler.
